PREFATORY NOTE.

R. BERRIEN LINDSLEY, in his Educational History, says :

"The town of Lebanon, in the State of Tennessee, is situated about thirty miles east of Nashville. It is a handsome town, with a population of near three thousand, noted for culture and hospitality. Its citizens are now, and always have been, remarkable for their morality, and for their devotion to the University in their midst. The very best families in the town open their houses to students. In this respect Lebanon is peculiar, for at no other University is this so generally done. On the contrary, the students are congregated in vast numbers in 'boarding-houses,' thereby endangering not only their health, but their morals. The students in CUMBERLAND UNIVERSITY, therefore, have all the restraints and refining influences of cultivated Christian families thrown around them; and at no other place within our knowledge are such influences so happily brought to bear upon the minds and hearts of the youth of our land."

And in speaking of one of the departments of the University, which with equal propriety may be repeated as to all, Dr. Lindsley says :

"The moral influence of this school is not to be overlooked. Each of its teachers, from its origin to the present, has been a Christian by profession and example. They have always, by precept and by example, enforced obedience to the Divine as well as the municipal law. During the course of instruction, it has been their habit to impress upon the youthful mind the virtues of honesty, fidelity, and purity. And it is not to be doubted that, when in the last day all shall meet before their Eternal Judge, many will ascribe their everlasting happiness to the influence of their teachers in this school."

"By reason of recent legislation, no intoxicating liquors can be sold in Lebanon, or in the county in which it is located, and Cumberland University may reasonably look to the future for still greater success, not alone in the education, but in the moral elevation of the sons of her patrons and friends.

HISTORICAL NOTE.

CUMBERLAND COLLEGE was established at Princeton, Kentucky, in 1827. It continued in operation, under the care of the General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, until 1842. In consequence of a debt which it had incurred, and which was seriously impeding its progress, the General Assembly of 1842 resolved to relinquish it and establish another institution. This was located at Lebanon, Tenn., and was opened in September, 1842. Its Faculty for that year was F. R. Cossitt, D.D., President; Rev. C. G. McPherson, Professor of Mathematics, and Rev. T. C. Anderson (afterwards D.D.), Professor of Languages. Dr. Anderson, however, did not enter upon his duties until September, 1843; and at that time N. Lawrence Lindsley was added to the Faculty. The University was chartered in 1844. The school grew in favor and was unusually prosperous until the war caused it to suspend. After the war this Department was reorganized, with a small force and without funds. It has perseveringly moved forward, overcoming great obstacles, and the Trustees hope soon to have it so well endowed as to place its Faculty at ease. Many illustrious names are found among its alumni. The method of instruction is daily examination, drill, and lecture, all combined, and thus the greatest thoroughness is attained. The course of study is very comprehensive, and the text-books used are of the highest grade.

ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class must be prepared for examination in the following text-books and subjects, or their equivalents :

Latin Grammar (Andrews and Stoddard, Harkness, or Allen and Greenough); Cæsar (three books); Virgil (three books); Greek Grammar (Crosby, Hadley, or Goodwin); Greek Lessons (Crosby); Xenophon's Anabasis (one book); Ancient Geography; Arithmetic; Elementary Algebra; English Grammar; Modern Geography.

Candidates for admission to either of the higher classes must be prepared for examination upon the course of study for all the lower classes.

Students leaving before the end of any term will be required to stand an examination upon the portion of the course which they have missed, before they can enter their class again.

Drawing—Topographical, Geometrical, Mechanical, Isometrical, and Architectural, with Shading and Tinting, throughout the course.

Field Work—Adjustment and use of Surveying Instruments, and extensive practice in sketching Topography.

Students recite International and Constitutional Law in the Law Department, with the Junior Law Class, to the Chancellor of the University.

IV.—COURSE OF ANALYTICAL CHEMISTRY.

This will include Theoretical Chemistry, Qualitative and Quantitative Analysis, Blowpipe Analysis, Determination of Minerals, Volumetric and Organic Analysis, and Assaying.

V.—COURSE OF PRACTICAL ASTRONOMY.

This course embraces the various methods of observing for Time, Latitude, and Longitude, and the methods of calculating these from observed data, together with the computations of Eclipses, Occultations, etc.

Text-books—Chauvenet's Spherical and Practical Astronomy, and Astronomical Professional Papers of the United States Coast Survey.

VI.—COURSE OF HIGHER PRACTICAL SURVEYING.

In this are taught all the methods of observation and computation employed in Geodetic work, as it is now conducted in the admirable system of the United States Coast Survey.

Text-books—Professional and Scientific Papers of the United States Coast Survey, in addition to those on this subject in the Engineering Course.

Students on the last two courses will be under the direction of Prof. A. H. Buchanan. They may pursue these studies during nine months of the collegiate year, and spend the three months of vacation in actual field-work.

Prof. Buchanan is in charge of the Geodetic Survey of Tennessee, under the direction of the United States Coast Survey, and spends the time not required for his college duties in this work. The instruments are furnished to him by the Government, and are the best to be had, and the work done is the most accurate possible. Through the courtesy of the Superintendent of the Coast Survey, Prof. Buchanan is permitted to use these instruments in his class instruction. Thus unusual facilities are afforded students in this line for observing the practical operations of Astronomy and Geodesy.

The Tennessee Base Line, from which the triangulation of the State is to be made, is situated in Lebanon. Prof. Buchanan measured it during the summer of 1877, determined its Azimuth and the latitude of North Base in 1878, and is now proceeding with the Primary Triangulation.

DEGREES.

The degree of Bachelor of Arts (A.B.) is conferred upon students who complete the first course.

The degree of Bachelor of Science (B.S.) is conferred upon students who complete the second course.

The degree of Civil Engineer (C.E.) is conferred upon students who complete the third course.

No student can receive any one of the above degrees whose average grading for the Senior year falls below 8.

Various select courses may be pursued, for which, however, no degrees are conferred.

POST GRADUATE COURSES.

MASTER OF ARTS—A.M.

Mental Philosophy—Hamilton, Kant, Reid, Porter, Aristotle. Logic—Hamilton, Aristotle. Ethics—The Bible, Seneca, Jouffroy. Evidences of Christianity—Lardner, Chalmers, Butler. Two of the authors on each of the above subjects required. Mathematics—Descriptive Geometry, Howison's Analytic Geometry, Calculus (Diff. Int. and variations); Analytic Mechanics (Peirce or Bartlett), Astronomy (Chauvenet, Newcomb). Natural Science—Proficiency in any branch. Classics—Eclogues, Georgics, Ars Poetica, Oration of Milo, Isocrates, Livy, Philology, or one modern language mastered.

Graduates of this or any other reputable University or College in any one of the three courses—Classical, Scientific, or Civil Engineering—who shall have pursued the above course systematically for two years, or who have pursued liberal or professional studies regularly for three years, as students of law, theology or medicine, or who have devoted themselves for that length of time to scientific or literary pursuits, as editors, authors, or teachers of the higher branches of learning, will be received as candidates for this degree.

Candidates must sustain written examinations upon the studies required, and submit theses upon such subjects as the Faculty may select, before they will be advanced to the degree of Master of Arts.

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY—PH.D.

The candidate for this degree must be a graduate of some institution of learning, or must have received a degree in some of the learned professions. In addition to this, he will be required to pursue thoroughly one of the courses given below, to satisfy the Faculty on examination that he has made special proficiency therein, and to present an approved dissertation showing original research. A good knowledge of Greek, Latin, German, and French will be required in all cases, unless, for satisfactory reasons, the candidate be excused by the Faculty.

I. Letters.—English, Latin, Greek, German, and French languages—their philological relations to one another and to the Indo-European family in general; Metaphysics, with its general history; Scottish Philosophy; Ethics; Politics, including Theory of Government, Constitutional Law, Principles of Law, and International Law.

II. Physics.—Mechanics, Analytic and Synthetic; Quaternions (Kelland and Tait); Geometry, Descriptive and Analytic; Calculus; Shades, Shadows, and Perspective; Mechanical Drawing; Surveying, with use of instruments; Astronomy, Theoretical and Practical, with use of instruments; Geodesy; Meteorology; Sound; Heat; Light; Electricity.

III. Chemistry.—Chemistry—Inorganic, Organic, Physiological, and Agricultural; Qualitative and Quantitative Analysis; Blow-pipe Analysis; Metallurgy; Assaying; Chemical Technology; Spectroscopy; Drawing.

IV. Natural History and Botany.—Biology; Zoölogy, recent and fossil; Human and Comparative Anatomy and Physiology; Histology; Embryology; Botany, recent and fossil; Microscopy; Microscopic Animals and Plants; Physiology.

V. Geology and Mineralogy.—Geology—Lithological, Cosmical,

Physiographic, Historic, and Dynamic; Economic Geology; Palæontology. Mineralogy — Crystallography; Chemistry of Minerals; Blowpipe Analysis of Minerals; Metallurgy; Drawing and Sketching.

The fee for the degree of A.M. and Ph.D., each, is $30.00.

EXPENSES FOR SESSION OF TWENTY WEEKS.

Classical and Scientific, Freshman and Sophomore.....	$20 00
Classical and Scientific, Junior and Senior.....	25 00
Engineering, Freshman and Sophomore.....	35 00
Engineering, Junior and Senior.....	40 00
Contingent fee for all students.....	5 00
Laboratory fee for Junior and Senior.....	2 00
Practical Astronomy and Higher Surveying, each.....	50 00
Analytic Chemistry.....	50 00
Boarding with private families ($3.50 per week).....	70 00
Boarding in clubs, about.....	40 00

It is thus seen that the total necessary expenses of Academic students, exclusive of books, clothing, and washing, need not exceed $100 per term of twenty weeks, and may be reduced to $70 if the student boards in a club.

Students entering within three weeks of the opening are charged for the full term.

Candidates for the ministry are exempt from tuition, but are required to pay all other fees. If they shall ever voluntarily abandon the ministry, or shall not connect themselves with some department of Church work, they will be required to remit to the Treasurer the full amount of tuition fees, according to the regular charges.

No student will be permitted to recite before matriculating.

INTOXICATING LIQUORS.

The repeal of the charter of the town of Lebanon took effect on January 1, 1882, and from that time on no intoxicating liquors can be sold within four miles of the University. The same law has, furthermore, driven whisky entirely out of the county, and parents who send their sons here may now be assured that they will be free from the dangerous temptations of the tippling saloon.

AGENT.

Rev. J. D. Kirkpatrick is the Financial Agent. From the following it will be seen that the University is in a better financial condition than ever before, and the prospects are good for a large increase in the near future :

Productive Endowment, Theological School.....	$25,700
Productive Endowment, Academic School.....	30,000— 55,700
Endowment not yet productive.....	25,000
Total Endowment.....	$80,700

Besides the above, there is a prospective endowment of about $90,000 in legacies, to be paid at the death of the testators. In these are the hope of the school, and the Agent desires to increase this amount as rapidly as possible by securing other bequests.

SUGGESTIONS TO OUR PATRONS.

If possible, every student should enter the institution on the first day of each term. Minors should never be left to select their boarding house or course of studies, nor should they ever be allowed to open accounts in the stores. The general course of study has great advantages over all special courses.

LIBRARY AND READING ROOM.

The University Library contains about 8,000 volumes. It is open every day except Sunday. Large additions have been made since our last Catalogue appeared.

THE BEARD LIBRARY.

Mrs. R. Beard has presented to the University the library of her husband, the late Richard Beard, D.D. This consists of about 800 volumes, and is a valuable acquisition to the University.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.

There is a live College Association, and it is a means of great good to the students of all departments of the University.

CHURCHES, ETC.

Lebanon is well supplied with churches and Sunday-schools, and all suitable means are used to induce students to attend them regularly.

CABINET OF MINERALS AND FOSSILS.

This includes many fine specimens, and additions are constantly being made. The friends of the University will confer a great favor by sending to the Professor of Natural Science anything of this kind that they can secure.

The Philosophical and Chemical apparatus is amply sufficient for the full illustration of the course.

PRIZE.

The Principal's prize is awarded to the best declaimer of the Preparatory School. The first prize was given to James S. Weaver, of Arkansas; the second to R. S. Brown, of Alabama, and the third to Atkins Lindsley, of Tennessee.

COLLEGE CODE.

The laws of the University are rigidly enforced, and are all embraced in the motto, "Semper præsens, semper paratus."

The next term begins September 4, 1882.

LAW SCHOOL.

ESTABLISHED 1847.

PROFESSORS.

ROBERT L. CARUTHERS.

NATHAN GREEN.

ANDREW B. MARTIN.

HISTORICAL NOTE.

This Department of the University was created on the 9th day of January, 1847; or, to be more accurate, on that day the Board of Trustees took the first step, by resolution, looking to the establishment of a Law School. At various subsequent sittings of the Board, the plan of organization was perfected, and in the month of October, 1847, the first term opened, with one Professor and seven students present. The present Chancellor was one of the seven students. Judge Abraham Caruthers was the Professor. He resigned his seat upon the bench of the State to accept the position of first teacher of law in this School. His name has passed into history as one of the ablest Judges who ever presided in the courts of the State. His opening address attracted wide attention, being copied and commented upon in many of the legal publications throughout the country. He assailed and utterly discarded the old system of lectures adopted in professional schools, and insisted that the science of law should be taught like any other science—like mathematics, like chemistry.

The School was at once a success. In 1861, at the breaking out of the war, there were one hundred and eighty law students in attendance. Judge N. Green, father of the present Chancellor of the University, and then one of the Supreme Judges of the State, was called to assist Judge Caruthers in the conduct of the School in 1852. He resigned his position on the bench to do so. Shortly thereafter, N. Green, Jr., the present Chancellor, was elected a Professor, the prosperity of the School requiring the services of three instructors. These three gentlemen continued as the Faculty of this department until the breaking out of the civil war, in 1861. Judge Abraham Caruthers died during the war. Judge N. Green, Sr., survived the war, and assisted his son (N. Green, Jr.) in the revival of the School; but died, at an advanced age and full of honors, in 1866. He was succeeded that year by Hon. Henry Cooper, and two years thereafter, Judge Cooper having resigned, Judge Robert L. Caruthers (clare et venerable nomen), who was for many years on the Supreme bench of the State, was elected to fill the vacancy. In 1878 it became necessary to select a third Professor, and Andrew B. Martin was duly elected to that position, thus completing the Faculty as it now exists.

The success of this School, from its origin to the present, has been unparalleled by any other similar institution. Fully two thousand young men have here received instruction in the law, and of this number there are preserved and published in this Catalogue the names of more than one thousand who have graduated from its walls. They are scattered throughout the entire country, at the bar and on the bench. They are present in both houses of the United States Congress, and wherever they may be found, it may be said the systematic training received here and exhibited in successful careers is giving prestige to their alma mater.

COURSE OF STUDY.

This has been selected with care from the best works of the best American authors. It begins with the mere rudiments, and extends to every department of Law and Equity which may be of any practical benefit in this country, and is designed to prepare the student for an immediate entrance into the active duties of his profession.

FOR THE JUNIOR CLASS.

History of a Law Suit, by Judge Abraham Caruthers, who wrote the book expressly for this School; Kent's Commentaries, Vols. I., II., and III.; Field on Corporations, which has been added to the course since the last Catalogue; Greenleaf's Evidence; Stephen's Pleading.

FOR THE SENIOR CLASS.

Kent's Commentaries, 4th volume; Barton's Suit in Equity;

Story's Equity Jurisprudence; Parsons on Contracts, and Bishop's Criminal Law.

This course may be completed in ten months. Students entering either the Junior or Senior Class may begin in September or January. As only ten months are required, students will be expected to enter promptly at the beginning of each term.

Those who read the Junior course privately and apply for admission to the Senior Class, with a view to graduation, will be subjected to a rigid examination. If it is approved by the Faculty, the candidates will take their places in the Senior Class on the same footing as other members. It is most earnestly urged, however, upon all who possibly can, that they enter the Junior Class. Failing to do so, they miss much of the practice and drilling in elements and in forms taught in that class every term. A license to practice and a diploma will be given to all who are graduated.

No previous reading of law or any special literary qualifications will be required to enter the School. The common law, applicable in all the States, is taught, though not by lectures. The law is in the text books. The Professor can no more make law than the student himself. It is better, therefore, that the student be required to learn a portion of the text, and be subjected to an examination in the presence of his class each day. It is the business of the Professor to conduct this examination, and explain difficult passages when necessary.

That full justice may be done to the students, two of the Professors of this Law School devote their whole time to the work. Regular lectures on the law are not delivered, as they would only divert the minds of the students from their daily work. Every subject upon which a lecture could be given has been exhausted by the ablest Professors, and printed in books after the most careful revision by the authors. We would regard it as an imposition on students, and as presumptuous on our part, to pretend that we could improve upon Kent, Story, Greenleaf, Parsons, and others, who have given to the public, in printed form, and acceptable to all, lectures on every branch of the law. We, therefore, think it better for the student to occupy his time in learning, with our assistance, what others have written, than in learning from anything we could write. If our mode of teaching is more difficult for us, it is much more profitable to the student.

Moot courts constitute an important feature. Every student is required to bring suits in the forms adapted to all our courts. Professors act as judges, and students act by turns as jurors, clerk, and sheriff.

There are two sessions of five months each. The first term for the years 1882-3 begins first Monday in September, 1882, and ends January 18, 1883. Second term begins January 23, 1883, and ends June 7, 1883.

Books for the Junior Class may be bought in Lebanon for $40, and those for the Senior Class for $45, which is much less than publishers' prices. If the student should prefer not to purchase the books, either course can be rented from booksellers in Lebanon for $12.50, to be paid in cash at the beginning of the term.

It must be remembered that the books used in this School are the regular text-books of the profession, and will always be needed in practice, and when once bought will last a life-time.

EXPENSES REDUCED.

Tuition fee for term of five months.....	$50 00
Contingent fee.....	5 00
Boarding in families, per week.....	$3 00 to 4 00
Boarding in clubs, per month.....	8 00
Books of Junior Class.....	40 00
Books of Senior Class.....	45 00
Washing and lights, per session.....	$8 00 to 10 00
Diploma fee (for Seniors).....	5 00

All graduates are invited to remain another year free of charge.

NEW BUILDING.

A new and superb building, Carnthers Hall, has recently been completed. It has been named in honor of Judge Robert L. Caruthers, on whose ground and by whose munificence, in great part, the building was erected. Others contributed nobly, but he more than any. In this elegant structure the Law School will hereafter be conducted.

Next term begins September 4, 1882.

No intoxicating liquors can be sold in the town of Lebanon, or in the county in which it is located.

For a list of graduates from this Department for the year ending June, 1882, see page 11.

HISTORICAL NOTE.

THE Theological School of the University was founded in 1853. During the first twenty-five years of its existence, Dr. Beard was the Principal, and during much of the time the only instructor. He did a good work for the Church—a work which cannot be valued too highly. Hundreds of young men preparing for the ministry received their education, in part or entirely, from him. In 1877 the School was reorganized. The Faculty was increased by the addition of two regular Professors and two Lecturers. The course of study was at the same time extended, so as to include two years instead of one, as heretofore. In 1881 Dr. Beard died. Dr. Burney was then transferred to the Chair of Systematic Theology. Prof. Kirkpatrick was then called to give instructions in the branches heretofore in the hands of Dr. Burney. The number of students in the School has been steadily increasing since its reorganization five years ago, and we are encouraged to believe that there is a useful and bright future before it.

DEPARTMENT OF INSTRUCTION.

The following more explicit statements will convey a clearer idea as to what is actually taught in the Theological School:

I.—EXEGETICAL THEOLOGY.

Under this head the origin, authorship, language, history, character, exposition, and doctrines of the sacred Scriptures are studied.

* Recited with the Junior Law Class to Chancellor Green.

† Recited with the Senior Law Class to Chancellor Green.

It includes (1) General and Special Introduction; under which are placed Sacred Philology, Isagogics, Canonics, Sacred Criticism, and Hermeneutics. (2) Practical exercises in Exegesis, founded on the rules and principles established by Hermeneutics. In these exercises the student is required to study the grammatical, logical, rhetorical, and historical peculiarities of the passages assigned, and to observe in every case, so far as practicable, the rule that Scripture is the best interpreter of Scripture. (3) Biblical Theology, or the doctrines of the Old and the New Testaments, studied according to their progressive development, and the various forms under which they appear. It includes Messianic Prophecy, or Christ in the Old Testament—both in its narrow and broader senses.

II.—HISTORICAL THEOLOGY.

Under this head are included (1) Biblical Antiquities, or the study of the various customs, manners, social and political institutions, etc., of the ancient Bible nations. This is essential to a thorough and intelligent understanding of many parts of the Scriptures. (2) Christian Antiquities, or the domestic, social, and civil life, etc., of the early Christians. (3) History of Christian Doctrine. (4) Church History.

III.—SYSTEMATIC THEOLOGY.

This branch of Theological science, as taught here, occupies itself with the investigation and systematic development of Christian doctrines, some of which are peculiar to Cumberland Presbyterians, others being confessed by the Christian world as a whole. They are presented, for the most part, didactically and polemically, the historical discussion of them being referred to the department of Historical Theology. The plan pursued is substantially that given in Dr. Beard's published lectures. The logical basis of Systematic Theology is laid by the instruction given in Exegetical Theology; though this must necessarily, to a certain extent, be anticipated, and the two be pursued simultaneously.

IV.—PRACTICAL THEOLOGY.

Or, (1) The ground, origin, extent, aim, and nature of the various offices of the Church, especially of the Ministry of the Gospel. (2) The nature, character, material, form, and delivery of the sermon. (3) Sacred worship, or the principles regulating the public service of the congregation. (4) The pastor in relation to his flock and to the world. (5) Christian Missions. (6) Apologetics and Christian Ethics.

TEXT-BOOKS AND REFERENCES.

The student may furnish himself, here or elsewhere, with Green's Hebrew Grammars, Hebrew Bible and Lexicon, Greek New Testament, Lexicon, and Winer's Grammar, Kurtz's Sacred History, Rawlinson's Origin of Nations, Beard's Systematic Theology, Gaussen's Origin and Inspiration of the Bible, and Burrow's Geography and Antiquities of the Bible. Others will be needed from time to time. The student will, during the progress of the course, be referred to the literature of the various subjects treated. The Library contains about 8,000 volumes, and the student will be expected to consult those bearing upon the topics which he may have in hand.

EXPENSES.

Board, per term, in club, including everything, about.....	$60 00
Contingent fee (payable at the beginning of the term).....	5 00
Matriculation fee (payable at the opening of the term).....	5 00
Books, per term, about.....	16 00
Total.....	$86 00

The matriculation fee is not paid by candidates for the ministry in the Academic classes.

The fare in the club is good, and the management neat and orderly. No student can reasonably object to either.

Board in private families, $3.50 a week, including meals, room, and fuel.

Hereafter all students who room in Divinity Hall will be required to board in the club, and but one club will be allowed in the building.

SOCIETIES.

Connected with the University, there are three literary societies.

THE AMASAGASSEAN SOCIETY. — Motto: "Nos Palma Manet." This society was organized in 1837, at Cumberland College, Princeton, Ky. In 1842 it was transferred, with the College, to Lebanon.

THE PHILOMATHEAN SOCIETY. — Motto: "Nihil Sine Labore." This society was organized in 1844.

THE HEURETHELIAN SOCIETY. — Motto: "Γνωθι τὸν θεόν. Γνωθὶ σεαυτὸν." This society was organized in 1854.

These societies all have commodious and well-furnished halls, and hold their meetings every Saturday evening during the scholastic year. They also give public exhibitions, from time to time, in Caruthers Hall.
